

Doctors, nurses, and all the hospital staff do their best to help sick people get better. Have you ever visited a hospital before?

What do you think—will the little boy get better soon? I sure hope so! Color the picture below with vivid, bright colors.

John 4

Jesus was walking along when a man came up to him. "Jesus, my son is very sick and may die. I came all the way from Capernaum to find you and ask you to heal him."

Jesus was amazed by the man's faith. "Your son is healed," he said.

Sure enough, when the man got home the next day, he found his son well again.

A little while later, Jesus met a man who had been unable to walk for thirty-eight years. "Do you want to be well?" Jesus asked the man.

"Yes, but no one will help me," the man answered.

"I will," Jesus said. "Stand up and walk." And just like that, the man did.

People began to talk about Jesus love and how he cared for the sick.

Healing

When a person changes from unwell to well. Jesus spent much time healing others.

PICTURE IT

This activity focuses on MINDFULNESS. When you color in each of the small cells (and the words in the middle), make an effort to center your concentration on what you're doing in the moment.

Share with a friend or a trusted adult which one of Jesus' healing stories is your favorite.

TICTACTOE

This week, when you help at home, ask if you can help prepare yummy, but nutritious food for you and your family. What will you make?
