

Church designs have changed throughout the ages. Early churches were just people's own houses! How would you design a church?

The "Ark of the Covenant" was where the Israelites stored the stone tablets with the Ten Commandments! Color it.

1 Kings 5 & 8

God loved the Israelites. God had saved them from being slaves in Egypt and given them their own land. King Solomon wanted to thank God by building God a special house called a temple.

Of course, God did not need a house to live in. God lives everywhere! But this temple would be a special place for God's people to worship and remember God always.

It took seven years to build, and when it was all finished, King Solomon invited lots of people to come to a worship service to praise God and give the temple to God.

King Solomon was so happy that the temple was finished. He promised he would always love and serve God and God promised to always be with God's people.

God's House

Can be a church, but it's the whole world, too!

Maze Time!

See how a-MAZE-ing you can be. Help the Israelites bring the Ark of the Covenant inside the temple where it belongs (on the other side).

START

I have no idea why I'm here ...

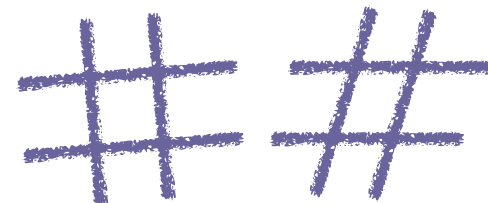

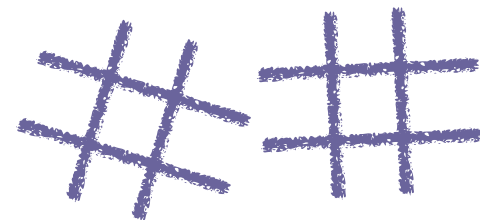

Yay!! Now you did it!

The movie "Indiana Jones" (the first one) had the "Ark of the Covenant" as one of the items the bad guys found! Schedule a time to watch this movie with your family or friends. (If appropriate).

TICTACTOE

Nice Quote!

Always, everywhere God is present, and always God seeks to discover God's self to each one.
